History of the Class of '27

History is a record of past events and the history of Intermont would be unfinished without the records of the Class of '27.

In the year of '24, or the fall of '23, twenty-four little Freshmen knocked upon the doors of Intermont. Green and timid little Freshmen they were, just like any other Freshmen, but soon this class distinguished itself when the green and the white quintette won the High School Basket-ball Cup. No, my dear readers, the Freshman history of the Class of '27 was very different from the usual Freshman history.

Although enjoying our Freshman days, glad we were when the following fall we returned as Sophomores, for is not the Sophomore almost as important as the Senior? There were only seventeen, but though diminished in numbers, our prestige remained as high and when our year was finished, though we grieved to bid the Class of '25 farewell, yet we were happy to carry the daisy chain and look with longing eyes toward that distant goal.

Juniors, sixty-five strong, guided by the wise and unerring Miss Pflug, sponsor, so dear and loyal. Much fruit did the year of '26 bear the Juniors, for again the green and the white waved at the top and again we bore the cup from the field, conquerors. Then into the future we gazed with dreamy eyes when Junior and Senior were brought close together at that memorable Junior-Senior Banquet. Would those dreams come true? We wondered.

And now, we, the Class of '27, have reached the end of the trail; from the Freshmen of '24 we have evoluted into the Senior of '27. Yet again, dear readers, though our dreams have come true and with all our hopes and aspirations we are not happy to leave the sacred halls of Intermont. Looking back over the past years, we regret to leave "Our Intermont," but we realize that the trail has not ended, only begun. Intermont, you have sheltered us well for four happy years, you have prepared us willingly for the great unknown. May a greater history some day record the Class of '27, not as that class, but as the makers of tomorrow.

The history of the Class of '27 ends, no, let us not say ends, for there remains that great space, the future, and we look back to that firm and all-meaning motto: "We have crossed rivers; now the ocean lies before us."

—Cay Talbott.

Intermont, Farewell!

Dear Old Intermont, as we leave you,
How fond memories fast return:
All our hopes and inspirations,
All the lessons schoolgirls learn.
Now we'll all be independent—
On our own out in the world—
Each of us a living unit
With her banner proud unfurled.
Each to make her name so famous
That V. I. will long rejoice
That her portals once have sheltered
Artist, journalist, famous voice.
Some will have careers quite famous,
Some will ne'er be heard from more,
But we'll all be great alumnae
And our Intermont e'er adore.
Alma Mater, long we'll praise you
And our hearts your image bear.
We will do the things forever
That will show we really care.
We will give to you a promise
(May the future hold fulfilled)
That you've left your mark forever
For your spirit you've instilled.
Bells that never let us sleep late—
Classes that we must attend—
Sunday vespers, Thursday prayer meet—
These our memories to us lend:
Little Store and even Minnick's—
Dancing in the gym till ten—
Clubs, Sororities and parties—
Society meetings and then—
Old familiar faces that we Cannot but recall each day,
Wondering what ole "Brownie's" doing,
How are "Adam"—dear ole "Cay?"
But again we think with sadness,
Will we never see them more?
Are our schooldays ended thusly,
With a heavy heart-ache sore?
No, V. I., we hate to leave you,
But the girls you'll find worthwhile,
Linger in your memory as
The girls who left you with a smile.
Love and luck, the best of wishes!
We will all your praises tell!
So the Class of '27
Bids to you a fond farewell.

"What's the use of advertising?" is a frequent query.
Just a waste of time and space? This now is our theory:

Publicity to some extent
Uplifts our fame to great renown,
Bestows us Dame Fortune's crown;
Lucrative ads are found well-spent.
"Interesting reading," the parents state:
Cauldron tells what we daily do;
ANNUAL gives the year's review;
(Testify why we really rate)
Interspersed with features clever,
Occasions that we all delight in,
News our school's fame to heighten.
(Students ne'er their ties will sever).

They're the reasons why we'll praise
Publications all our days.

"Behind The Foots"

As we take a backward look over the school year of 1926-27, with all its varied activities of work and pleasure, some things stand out conspicuously. Especially is this true when we turn the "spotlight" of the memory upon the many interesting plays that have been given by the Department of Dramatics under the direction of Miss Nunnally and Miss Davis.

The joint open meeting of the Eoline and Harrisonian Literary Societies, on October 16, was the occasion of the first of the series, "The Angel Intrudes," a very humorous satire. Then in celebration of the Halloween season, we recall, perhaps with a shiver, the two plays, "Aria Da Capo" and "Famine and the Ghost," two excellent plays of great literary as well as artistic and dramatic value.

Next came the four little Christmas plays full of the beautiful spirit of the happy season: "A Christmas Idea," "Mixed Baskets," "A Christmas Picture" and "A Christmas Chime." On February 5 two very highly entertaining plays were given—"Suppressed Desires" and "Look What You've Done."

Following these, two weeks later, we love to recall the four artistic plays of the romantic period of the 18th century—"The Beau of Bath," "Gretna Green," "Ashes of Roses" and "The Prince of Court Painters," by Constance Mackay.

March 19 was the date of an evening of great fun, when the two Societies, in another joint meeting, presented three rollicking, funny farces for the benefit of the Annual. It was not intended that the series of one-act plays end here, as three other charming plays were already cast, but on account of the numerous spring recitals and the grand rush on the "home stretch" we thought best to leave off at this point, until the final big play at the end of the year, which, as we go to press, we are joyfully anticipating on the evening of May 20th. So ends a very happy and successful year in the Department of Dramatics.

Fine Arts

It came to us from long ago,
  It ne'er will meet defeat,
For music keeps us all in tune
  And makes the world seem sweet.

No greater 'tis and yet no less
  Is that which we call art,
It mixes paint, clay, life and all
  And gives each one a part.

And drama tells its story
  Since e'er there was the Greek,
Of how one should express himself
  And know just how to speak.

The last of all, but not the least,
  These two go hand in hand—
Sewing and cooking, our household arts,
  Are found throughout the land.

Thus, music, expression, cooking,
  And art, and sewing, too,
Make up this Fine Arts section
  So old, yet ever new.

Eoline Swing

Eolines, Eolines, we love you,
We know you are the only ones.
For the green and the gold,
It will never grow old.
Watch our step! See our "pep!"
Eolines, Eolines, Eolines, Eolines,
Eolines, Eolines, we love you,
And to you we will all be true,
So rah! rah! rah! rah! rah! rah!
Rah! rah! rah! rah! rah! rah!
Rah! rah! rah! rah!
Oh, by Jiminy—
Eolines, Eolines, we love you!

Harrisonian Swing

Oh, let us keep our colors flying,
And fling our banners high,
We're winning when we're trying,
And we're going to try.
We'll tell the world, girls,
Our crowd is the best;
So, come, let us cheer for old H. L. S.
We'll go to the battle and fight till we win
And then watch us do it all over again.
Hurrah for our banner,
Three cheers for success—
That's the spirit of H. L. S.

Athletics

There are athletics at Intermont for everybody. Who can resist the temptatio to hike on a beautiful fall or spring morning? The climatic conditions of this locality are of the most healthful and the scenery would warrant any exploration on the part of the girls.

Tennis is a favorite sport in the spring and fall and the courts are constantly in use where spirited games are played by the faculty as well as the girls. Basket-ball fills in the gap between the tennis seasons. A great display of class spirit is shown on the floor and a cup presented to the winning team.

Swimming is another popular sport at Intermont, probably the most popular as more girls participate. The modern swimming pool is a great asset.

There is a competition in all these phases of athletics. The Live-Saving tests, tennis tournaments, basket-ball games and track meets produce a commendable sportsmanship spirit among the girls.

Gymnastics at Intermont

Our "gym" work is that interesting feature of our schedule, the very thought of which bores us horribly, and yet we would not miss it, for while we might be able to live without it, we are quite sure, according to our director, we could not live so long nor so well. But, oh, what a task to don that "gym" suit each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday and line up for drill! There we must toe the mark, too, leaving all foolishness behind, while Miss Nunnally puts us through. Once there, however, the dose is not so bad and we all agree as we leave the "gym" floor that we needed just what we got and really liked it whether we wanted it or not.

Vice-President

The Athletic Association sponsors all sports of the school. This organization provides for the upkeep of the equipment and can be termed the "backbone" of our athletics. The Athletic Banquet is always the occasion of the year where the cup, numerals and block letters are awarded. The Seniors won the cup this year with the following team: Dot Chandler, Captain; Virginia Smith, Margie Williams, Sue Griffith, Dud Jeffries, Margaret Adams, Julia Waters and Mabel Witt.

Humor

Jokes

Mrs. Murrell—"Virginia, don't you know that you have broken the eighth commandment by stealing the bread from the table?"

Smoocher—"Well, I might just as well break the eighth and have the bread as to break the tenth and only covet it."

Violette Winton—"Lived here all your life?"

Chicky Taylor—"Don't know—haven't died yet."

Louisa is so dumb that we always tell her the point of the joke first so she can laugh with the rest and then she chimes in late.

Lois (walking, waves to Mr. Roberts who rides along in his Ford)—"Hey, I'm going your way."

Mr. Roberts (waving back)—"So I see, but I'll get there before you do."

It is dangerous to change horses in the middle of a stream but more dangerous to change your mind in the middle of the street.

Louise Fox—"Why can negroes be safely trusted with secrets?"

Lil—"Because they always keep dark."

Brownie has a good one on her room-mate: she says that Tommie is so dumb that she doesn't think she has to go very far UP to get to heaven (third floor).

Virginia McGeehee—"Is there any difference between addition and subtraction?"

Eliza—"Sum."

A Ford is a car that you push up a hill with your left foot.

Visitor—"Can you tell me if Pauline Shumate is up in her room?"

Eva Lee—"Sorry, but there's nobody home on the top floor."

Visitor—"Oh, pardon me, I'll ask some one else."

Louisa—"I thought that you took Algebra last year."

Adam—"I did, but the faculty gave me an encore."

Mary Wylde—"Louise must be the idol of her family."

Evelyn E.—"Yes, she is; she's been idle about seventeen years."

Mr. Noffsinger (talking about the use of Domestic Science departments to students)—"If he's a girl you want to give him something to do that will be useful when he becomes somebody's wife."

Blair (romantically)—"I press my suit on bended knee."
Betty—"Why don't you get an ironing board?"

First Senior (as the eleventh Senior arose to address the throng in the stifling heat of the hall)—"Isn't the heat terrible?"
Second Senior—"Oh, it isn't the heat, it's the stupidity."

Why do leaves turn red in the fall? They are blushing, realizing how green they have been all summer.

Miss Kent (to her Biology class)—"When do leaves begin to turn?"
Lois Taylor—"The night before exams."

New Girl—"I saw three of your sorority sisters in town today."
Old Girl—"I thought that you didn't know any."
New Girl—"I don't. But I recognized your dresses."

Gladys—"Are you going to use your Spanish book this afternoon?"
Evelyn P.—"Yes, I'm afraid that I am."
Gladys—"Good, then you won't mind me using your racket. I've broken mine."

Mary Baker Jones—"Know anything about Shakespeare's works?"
Phoebe—"No, what kind of a factory is that?"

Sara Janney—"Can February March?"
Grace Reed—"Perhaps not, but April May."

Miss McCoy (in history class)—"Why haven't you done your outside readings?"
Dud—"It's been too cold."

Alma Lane—"Where's your room-mate?"
Louise Morelock—"Well, if the ice is as thick as she thinks it is, she is skating. If it is as thin as I think it is, she's swimming."

Lela—"Oh, have you heard the latest?"
Dot—"No."
Lela—"It's not out yet."

TEACHER—"What thing eats the least?"
DOT WELLS—"Moth—it eats holes."

SUE—"Why are teachers like immigration authorities at Ellis Island?"
CAY—"I dunno, why?"
SUE—"They've taken the slogan, 'They shall not pass'."

MARY PUMPELLY—"Riggie, how come you've lived so long?"
RIGGIE—"'Cause I was born so far back."

MARGUERITE WEAVER—"This place reminds me of an elevator."
SOPHIA—"Why?"
M. W.—"Because when you come out of the dining-room, everybody says, 'Going up'?".

NEW GIRL (in chapel the first day of school)—"Look at the difference between Mr. Martin and Mr. Brown."
OLD GIRL—"Yes, that's because Mr. Martin eats at his house and Mr. Brown eats over here."

SMOOCHER—"May I borrow an evening dress?"
MARGIE—"Are we the same size?"
SMOOCHER—"Well—figuratively speaking."

AT V. I.

PAT—"If a girl committed suicide at V. I. would they ship her body home?"
ARLINE—"Nope, Hardy, they'd campus her ghost."

DOT WRIGHT—"What are your grades so far, Kitty?"
KITTY—"So far from what?"

NEWS BOY (in Cowan's)—"Extra! Extra paper!"
MILDRED GRIFFITH—"Oh, all right—if you have an extra one—I'll take it."

VISITOR—"Where are you from, little one?"
LOUISE D.—"Kentucky, sir."
VISITOR—"Oh, yes—the horse district."

A room-mate is a person who never has anything and who designates all your possessions with the word "our."

Some professors have no favorites; they flunk everybody with equal grace.

Mr. Brown—"So I told the Freshman to indorse the check her family sent her."

Brownie—"And did she do it?"

Mr. Brown—"Yes, indeed, she wrote on the back, 'I heartily indorse this check'."

Eddie Allison (to Mary Frank tearing off the calendar)—"What are you doing?"

Mary Frank—"I'm passing away time."

THE ART OF PLAYING TENNIS

Mary Grayson—"Why don't you hit the ball?"

Marguerite Woodrum—"Oh, I'm just playing to reduce."

Pauline Shumate—"What is the date, please?"

Mr. Brown—"Never mind the date, the examination is more important."

Pauline—"Well, sir, I wanted to have something right on my paper."

Miss Henry (in Latin class)—"When did Caesar defeat the greatest number?"

Student—"I think on examination day."

ATTENTION, MISSISSIPPI

If there should be a flood
And I should climb up high,
I'd climb upou my text books
Because they are so very dry.

Ruth S.—"I was alarmed this morning."

Dot C.—"When?"

Ruth—"About seven-thirty."

Julia—"And just why did you let go of the steering wheel?"

Boy Friend—"I wanted to see if I had a flat tire."

Julia—"Oh, you mean thing."

Claudine—"Mr. Noffsinger must believe in ghosts."

Susie—"Why?"

Claudine—"Because he is always talking of the school spirit."

Miss Egbert—"What is HNO3?"

Anne—"Oh, oh—I've got it on the tip of my tongue."

Miss Egbert—"Spit it out! Spit it out! It's nitric acid."

The value of an institution to a community is measured by the service it renders

SERVICE as applied to a department store must have a very broad meaning—must cover its entire field of operation, from the planning and buying of the right merchandise to final delivery to customer. To serve in a manner most beneficial has ever been our aim, which has been responsible for constant growth for more than a third of a century.
